

Construction of genetic maps

1. Implement (in R) the EM algorithm for estimating the recombination fraction between two markers with data from an intercross. (Assume complete data, and that only the genotypes AA, AB, and BB are observed.)